Indigenous Research: Theories, Practices, and Relationships

Indigenous research is an important and burgeoning field of study. With the Truth and Reconciliation Commission’s call for the Indigenization of higher education and research, institutions, scholars are exploring research methodologies that are centred in or emerge from Indigenous worldviews, epistemologies, and ontology. This new edited collection moves beyond asking what Indigenous research is and examines how Indigenous approaches to research are carried out in practice.

Contributors share their personal experiences of conducting Indigenous research within the academy in collaboration with their communities and with guidance from Elders and other traditional knowledge keepers. Their stories are linked to current discussions and debates, and their unique journeys reflect the diversity of Indigenous languages, knowledges, and approaches to inquiry.

Indigenous Research, is an essential read for students in Indigenous studies programs, as well as for those studying research methodologies in education, sociology, anthropology, and history.

Features
- explores the foundations of Indigenous research methods
- offers key theoretical, ethical, and methodological questions at the beginning of each chapter
- brings together contributions from seasoned and emerging scholars, both Indigenous and non-Indigenous, who research in diverse contexts

Author Information
Deborah McGregor
Deborah McGregor is an Associate Professor and currently holds a Canada Research Chair in Indigenous Environmental Justice at Osgoode Law School and Faculty of Environmental Studies, York University.

Jean-Paul Restoule
Jean-Paul Restoule is Professor in and Chair of the Department of Indigenous Education at the University of Victoria.

Rochelle Johnston
Rochelle Johnston is a Ph.D. Candidate at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto.

Reviews
"This text significantly contributes to the depth and breadth of Indigenous approaches to knowledge gathering (research) and the ongoing struggle to introduce Indigenous intellectual knowledges within the Academy. The focus on connecting intellectual and spiritual knowledges to specific Indigenous nations, and the use of relational knowledge, Indigenous languages, paradigms, and concepts are some of the major strengths of this compilation. I expect this will be a very important book. If decolonization matters to you, especially in the Academy and its institutions, read this book, teach this book, and share this book.”—Tracy Coates, J.D., M.E.S., Professor (LTA), Program Coordinator for Aboriginal Studies, Institute of Canadian and Aboriginal Studies, University of Ottawa.

"Indigenous Research: Theories, Practices and Relationships...will be of great interest for those individuals looking to move away from the Western hierarchical status-based system of academia. What matters the most is the way knowledge is shared, instead of the scholar-academic, knowledge, people, and communities were placed at the centre of knowledge production, as this book shows? Providing a nuanced and engaging account of how to practice Indigenous research and scholarship, this book is essential reading for anyone interested in deep learning about what decolonizing research looks like in practice.”—Rima Wilkes, Professor of Sociology, Department of Sociology, University of British Columbia.

Table of Contents
Table of Contents: List of Figures and Tables viii: Acknowledgements ix: Preface x
Introduction: Relationships, Respect, Relevance, Reciprocity, and Responsibility: Taking up Indigenous Research Approaches 1: Rochelle Johnston, Deborah McGregor, and Jean-Paul Restoule

PART I: The Research Is the Process: Research Journeys Inside and Out 23

PART II: Reclaiming Voice with Our Original Instructions 25

PART III: Making Space For Indigenous Research 81

PART IV: Wise Indigenous Woman Keeping and Sharing 112

PART V: Navigating and Naming Jagged Ethical Tensions and Micro-Aggressions in the Academy 129

APPENDIX A: First Chapter: Learning to Unlearn: Building Relationships on anishinaabeg Territory 46

APPENDIX B: Two Drums: Kino’o’amaadiwaawad Megwaad Doodamawaad — “They Are Learning With Each Other While They are doing” 112

APPENDIX C: Reviewer Acknowledgements 155

APPENDIX D: A Tale of Two Drums: Kino’o’amaadiwaawad Megwaad Doodamawaad — “They Are Learning With Each Other While They are doing” 112

APPENDIX E: Wise Indigenous Woman Keeping and Sharing 112

APPENDIX F: Navigating and Naming Jagged Ethical Tensions and Micro-Aggressions in the Academy 129

APPENDIX G: First Chapter: Learning to Unlearn: Building Relationships on anishinaabeg Territory 46

APPENDIX H: Two Drums: Kino’o’amaadiwaawad Megwaad Doodamawaad — “They Are Learning With Each Other While They are doing” 112

APPENDIX I: Wise Indigenous Woman Keeping and Sharing 112

APPENDIX J: Navigating and Naming Jagged Ethical Tensions and Micro-Aggressions in the Academy 129

APPENDIX K: First Chapter: Learning to Unlearn: Building Relationships on anishinaabeg Territory 46

APPENDIX L: Two Drums: Kino’o’amaadiwaawad Megwaad Doodamawaad — “They Are Learning With Each Other While They are doing” 112

APPENDIX M: Wise Indigenous Woman Keeping and Sharing 112

APPENDIX N: Navigating and Naming Jagged Ethical Tensions and Micro-Aggressions in the Academy 129

APPENDIX O: First Chapter: Learning to Unlearn: Building Relationships on anishinaabeg Territory 46

APPENDIX P: Two Drums: Kino’o’amaadiwaawad Megwaad Doodamawaad — “They Are Learning With Each Other While They are doing” 112

APPENDIX Q: Wise Indigenous Woman Keeping and Sharing 112

APPENDIX R: Navigating and Naming Jagged Ethical Tensions and Micro-Aggressions in the Academy 129

APPENDIX S: First Chapter: Learning to Unlearn: Building Relationships on anishinaabeg Territory 46

APPENDIX T: Two Drums: Kino’o’amaadiwaawad Megwaad Doodamawaad — “They Are Learning With Each Other While They are doing” 112

APPENDIX U: Wise Indigenous Woman Keeping and Sharing 112

APPENDIX V: Navigating and Naming Jagged Ethical Tensions and Micro-Aggressions in the Academy 129